NCAN UPDATES

NCAN #Thankful4Pell #DoublePell Advocacy Week

On Nov. 15, the National College Attainment Network commenced its seventh annual #Thankful4Pell #DoublePell Advocacy Week!

As policymakers in Washington continue to debate investments in social programs, the time is now to emphasize the crucial importance of need-based financial aid.

The #Thankful4Pell advocacy campaign celebrates the Pell Grant Program and emphasizes how doubling the maximum Pell Grant could bolster educational opportunities for millions of today's students.

Before the week is over make sure you, your colleagues and students use the simple form on NCAN's Action Center to contact your members of Congress about the importance of investing in students through Pell. Using the form is easy. We've drafted a message that you can send as is - or you can personalize to your liking. The campaign is especially well-timed this year – as Congress is considering the maximum award for 2022-23.
